

Undergraduated Final Project
Law Study Program
Odd Semester 2018/2019

JUDICIAL REVIEW OF SETTLEMENT OF HOUSING
CREDIT DISPUTE AT PT. BANK TABUNGAN
NEGARA BRANCH OF BATAM

NPM : 1351074

Suhardy

Abstract

Banks are financial institutions that work based on trust by collecting funds from the community and the most important is channeling it back to the community or credit. Although strict selection has been done on prospective customers, it is not uncommon for customers to experience obstacles or obstacles in the process of settlement or payment of the credit.

This study uses primary data and secondary data. Analysis of data based on facts that occur in the field, visits to several research locations and reference literature. So that the normative empirical research method becomes the basis for writing this scientific paper.

The author also wants to give some business suggestions to reduce the bad credit experienced by customers.

The author wants to give some suggestions to reduce the problems that arise as a result of the problematic housing loans that occur at PT. Bank BTN Cabang Batam.

Keywords: Bank, Credit