Abstrack

In the Indonesian constitution, every country has the right to guarantee the rights of every child to the survival of life, and the development and security of acts of violence and discrimination. This security must still be given by the nation to the child, so the child of the victim of a sexual crime must still get rehabilitation in accordance with his rights. These rights are regulated in law number 35 of 2014 concerning child protection. Therefore the researchers used two problem formulations that will be discussed by researchers in researching at a rainbow dew foundation, namely the first about the implementation carried out at the rainbow dew foundation in the second rehabilitation regarding the effectiveness at the rainbow dew foundation

The method used in this research is juridical law and empirical law. Some data used in an observation here are primary data, primary data here can be obtained directly from directly plunging into field and also equipped with secondary data that is obtained through library research. Then all the data obtained are complete, then then all the data can be obtained and analyzed, then we draw conclusions related to this research.

After the research was conducted by researchers, it can be concluded that the rainbow dew foundation has a very important role for victims of sexual abuse, to rehabilitate victims. The deprivation of rights to victims is related in existing laws, unfortunately the facilities and infrastructure there are still lacking.

Keywords: rainbow dew foundation, rehabilitation of molestation victims
