ABSTRACT

This research aims to explore UNIDROIT principles on contract law and agreements in Indonesia. Indonesia is one of the countries that is a member of UNIDROIT. There are a total of 63 countries that are members of UNIDROIT. Indonesia has worked as a member of UNIDROIT since January 1st, 2009

This research uses normative legal research methods with research methods on legal principles. The author uses research methods on legal principles by comparing the principles of UNIDROIT with the principles of contract law in Indonesia

Based on the results of this research, researchers found that by applying the principle of UNIDROIT, the parties would be facilitated in making contracts or agreements with each other. Countries that adopt the UNIDROIT principle have a lot of ease in making regulations or laws in the country in terms of commercial contracts. The UNIDROIT principle can be used as a guideline in legislation concerning commercial contracts.
