To achieve public order, a rule is needed, a law commonly called a law containing a series of rules to be obeyed and not violated. Not a few were found everyday in life found various violations committed by the community which caused losses to various parties. Because that is the function and benefit of a rule, to achieve public order. The Prosecutor's Office is part of one of the law enforcers who plays an important role in carrying out the law enforcement. Has the main task in dealing specifically with cases of general criminal offenses.

In general criminal cases, along with the prosecutors' performance, they must always go hand in hand with the investigator in every settlement of general criminal cases. Therefore, synergy and solidarity are needed between the two officials and agencies in the completion of each work. The beginning of a case always starts from the police who are handled by an investigator who will then be handed over to the prosecutor who will be handled by a prosecutor. In the process of completing the case, the police will pass the steps to hand over suspects and evidence to the prosecutor. To facilitate the delivery process and optimize the performance of the two agencies, an SOP is needed to ease the duties of both investigators and prosecutors, as well as for the safety and comfort of the defendants.

In this case creating will create an internal regulation in the prosecutor's office to be obeyed for anyone who wants to carry out the submission process. In order to achieve the efficiency of the performance of investigators and prosecutors in the process of resolving general criminal cases before being finally handed over and delegated to the District Court for further processing.
