The goal of this practical work is to help the people who wants to submit the case in Batam Religious Court by presenting a document standard which is needed in preparation for case submission, which is in a written form of brochure and also photo frame representation that can facilitate the people in preparing the documents that is needed when submitting the case in Batam Religious Court.

The focus of the writer is to create this writing of implementation for practical work with empirical legal research method or what is also known as sociological legal research. The drafting process is started with determining the topic, then continued with observing and finding the problem that exist within Batam Religious Court that needs to be adjusted by collecting relevant data. Then after all the data is put together, the writer will be drafting a document standard so that testing can be done to see how appropriate the standards that the writer have made. If it is not appropriate then the writer will ask for advice and direction so that the document standard can be revised and at last eventually the document standard can be implemented in Batam Religious Court.

The main goal of writer to create this document standard in written form is to fulfill the mandate of article 58 of the Religious Courts Act which requires the Court to assist the justice seekers as well as possible in overcoming all the hurdles and obstacles in order to achieve a simple, fast and low cost trial. Although at first writer only intended to set a document standard for the submission of divorcement only, that was not possible to be held because Article 28D of the Constitution 1945 has reminded that every person has the right to legal certainty that is fair and equal before the law. Furthermore, every person also has the right to obtain the same benefits in order to achieve equality and justice.
