

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
APARTMENT BUILDING PROJECT
"FORMOSA Residence"

Hilda Virginia Putri
NPM : 1511003

Practical work is an activity during the lectures that support the students in learning to try to break into the real world of work. Practical work aimed to gain knowledge about what is happening in the world of work in this regard such as the operation of heavy equipment, the method of construction work on the project management, and how solving the problem and the solution to be taken against construction problems that occur on the project.

In gathering the data and material required for the preparation of practical work using methods of observation, data collection, interview or interviews, and literature studies. Source of research data on this practical work report obtained from Formosa Apartment Building Project Residence Batam.

This practice activities carried out for 3 months starting March 1, 2018 till June 1, 2018. During this practical work the author get the knowledge in the form of order execution or implementation process in a project. The technique is done by the author in gathering data in need is a way of field work surveys or direct observation.

This practice of activity authors get the result that the total foundry floor beams 20 is equal to 367.1481377 m³. Concrete is very needed in construction.

Keywords: report, practical work, projects, buildings, concrete